Principal Report

Footy Day - a reminder that next Wednesday 14th September we have our Footy Day. Students can dress in their team colours and there will be a parade starting at 11.30am – 12.45pm. While called “Footy Day” we appreciate that our students follow teams in many sports and so can dress in those colours or uniforms as well. Footy Day Lunch orders are due to be returned no later than 4pm on Monday 12th September. Late orders cannot be accepted. Order forms are available from the Office foyer. Thank you PTA for organising the lunch.

Year 6 Market - Congratulations to our Year 6 students for their fantastic work planning and running the Year 6 Market last Friday. The market bought a real life experience to their unit on business and economics as well as enhancing important skills such as working with teams and the community. Once again thank you parents, family members and staff for your assistance and support.

Year 5 Camp - Our Year 5’s had a fantastic time at Sovereign Hill this week. The weather was great and they enjoyed the early settler and mining town activities. Thank you parents who attended as helpers and staff.

Last Day of Term - a reminder that Friday 16th September is the last day of Term 3 with a 2.30pm dismissal time. Term 4 commences on Monday 3rd October. We will be having an end of term assembly that provides us with an opportunity to recognise the great work completed by students this term and to enjoy some student performances. Assembly starts at 9.10am on the last Friday of term.

Pupil Free Day - A reminder that our next Pupil Free Day will be on Friday 14th October. No students are required to attend on this day. Our Out of Hours School Care Program will again offer a program for the full day for those families that require childcare.

Lost Property - thank you to the parents who have visited Lost Property recently. We are happy to reunite our lost property with the owners. If your child has lost an item please visit Lost Property which is located near the rear doors to the Admin wing.

Kind regards

NEXT SCHOOL COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT
Thursday September 8th at 6.45pm in the Staff Centre
"I dare you!"

"Go on, I dare you!" said Ella. The children were using the neighbour's fence post for target practice. Tao picked up a stone and took aim. The stone hit the post and then bounced off onto the neighbour's car breaking the windscreen.

"Oh no!" said Tao.

"Good shot Tao!" cheered Ella.

"Were in trouble now," said Harry.

"Come on, let's go before anyone sees us," said Tao.

Later that day, their neighbour came over. He wanted to know if anyone had seen what happened to his car.

"Do you know anything about it?" asked Harry's mother.

"We don't know anything about it," said Ella. But Tao began to cry, "They dared me to do it!"

"It wasn't his fault, Mum," said Harry. "It was that stupid game."

'Dare' games like the one described in this story are a common way for children to test the limits that adults set for them. At the same time children try out their own strengths and each other's. While this kind of behaviour is a normal part of childhood, effective guidance from adults is needed to help children develop skills to make responsible decisions and to stand up to social pressure.

Influences on children's social development

Children's understandings of responsibility are influenced by their families, by school staff, by community members, by other children and also by the things children see and hear in the media. Young children especially watch and copy the attitudes and behaviour of those closest to them.

As children grow older, they become more aware of peer group values and of the behaviours of role models such as sporting heroes or media personalities. They learn to think through and discuss the values and attitudes they observe in others and use themselves.

They think about whether decisions that are made are fair or whether someone is being 'mean' to them or to others.

When adults are fair, caring and respectful, children feel a greater sense of trust and belonging. Children are more likely to cooperate with adult guidance when they feel valued and respected. By contrast, when children feel they have been treated unfairly they are less likely to listen and more likely to try to avoid or resist discipline.
Teaching children values

Values are the internal guides we have for our behaviour. They help us to make choices, and to make judgements about what is right and wrong, good or bad, fair or unfair. While cultures differ in the emphasis they place on particular values (for example, individual freedom or duty to family), there are some which are common to all cultures like respect, caring, and justice.

Parents and carers are children’s first and most important teachers of values. Schools also have a major role to play in teaching values. Some of the ways that schools help children learn positive social values include:

- teaching children how to think about values and how to behave in ways that are caring, respectful, etc.
- teaching cooperative behaviours inside the classroom and in the playground
- making sure that behaviour and discipline issues are managed in ways that are positive, consistent and fair
- providing opportunities for children to practise good citizenship – through peer mentoring, student representative council, community projects, etc.

How parents and carers can help

Parents and carers can use a range of strategies to help children learn about social values. The following ideas can help:

- Teach by example
  Children often learn more from what you do than what you say. Your own behaviour is important for showing children how you would like them to behave. Talking about the reasons for your behaviour can help to make your values and expectations clear.

- Read and discuss stories that demonstrate positive values
  Choose children’s stories that reflect the kinds of values you want children to learn. Talk about the story and what can be learnt. You might ask questions like: How do you think that person feels? Why do you think he/she did that? Was it a good idea? How could he/she have done it better?

- Check what children are watching on TV
  Make sure that the programs children watch and the electronic games they play are suitable for their age and reflect positive values. Watching violence on television and playing violent video games can lead to aggressive behaviour.

- Teach children to learn from mistakes
  Mistakes provide opportunities for teaching and reinforcing positive values. Support and acknowledge children when they admit mistakes and help them find ways to make up for them. Ask them to suggest ways of repairing any damage they have caused to relationships, people or property.

- Help children to think about values
  Talk with children about the social values and attitudes they encounter in everyday situations and on TV. Teaching children to question and think about social values helps them to be clear about their own values and strengthens their ability to resist pressure from peers, advertising and other media.

Teaching children about values supports their social development. It helps them develop the knowledge and skills they need to play a positive role in society.

Our team is called Mount Martha Primary. Click on this link to take you straight there!

Despi O’Connor, Classroom Teacher.

Walk to school month starts on the first day back next term. There will be certificates for those who walk even once during the month of October.

To receive a certificate all you need to do is walk to or from school once! If you live further away or in a tricky location try one of the two Park and Stride spots and walk the rest of the way (Walara Shops and Mt Martha House). You can walk, ride, skate or scoot during this time. If you choose to skate, scoot or ride please remember to wear the correct safety equipment.

At school students will be encouraged by their teacher to fill in the class calendar on a daily basis, recording the way they travel to and from school.

This is a great time to teach your child to walk to school. Find a route and make it a habit!
Common Sense on Cyberbullying

What’s The Issue?
Cyberbullying is defined as repeatedly sending or posting cruel messages, images, or videos about someone else using the Internet, cell phones, or other digital technologies. Kids may call each other names, spread rumors, post threats, or purposefully make others feel uncomfortable or scared. Cyberbullying is especially disturbing because it is constant, inescapable, and very public. It can happen anytime — at school or at home — and can involve large groups of kids.

Why It Matters
Younger kids are starting to use online communication and at the same time they are exploring ways to test other people’s reactions. For instance, kids who send a mean message might not fully understand how another person might react to that message. Cyberbullying behavior also usually happens when adults aren’t around. So parents and teachers often see only the anxiety or depression that results from their kids being hurt or bullied. Parents can help by becoming aware of the issue, learning to identify the warning signs of bullying, and helping kids to understand how to be respectful to others online.

Common Sense Says
- Make a list together of how talking online is different than talking face-to-face. Help kids consider why it might be easier to say things online you wouldn’t say in person, and how this may be good sometimes and problematic at other times.
- Practice writing a text or an online message to a friend. Model for your child how to be kind and polite when using cell phones or the Internet. Discuss how to read the “tone” of a message before you send it, and how to avoid mean language or behaviors.
- Make sure they talk to someone (even if it’s not you). A child should tell a parent, teacher, or trusted adult if he or she is being bullied online. Tell your child that this isn’t tattling; it’s standing up for him- or herself.
- Advise them on how to handle cyberbullying. Even though they might be tempted to, your child should never retaliate against a cyberbully. They can stop the cycle by not responding to the bully. Also, remind them to save the evidence rather than delete it.
- Point out that it’s important to stick up for others, online as well as in the real world. Discuss ways they can support friends who are bullied and report bad behavior they see online.
We are SunSmart - a note for families

Too much UV can cause sunburn, skin and eye damage and skin cancer. Overexposure to UV during childhood and adolescence is a major factor for future skin cancer risk.

You can’t see or feel the sun’s UV so don’t be fooled. Whatever the weather, if the UV levels are three or more, it’s important to Slip, Slop, Slap, Seek and Slide!

Our school aims to protect children and staff from too much UV to help minimise future skin cancer risk. We are a registered member of the Cancer Council Victoria’s SunSmart Program. Please help support our SunSmart membership by ensuring your child follows the SunSmart measures included in our policy.

During the daily local sun protection times (issued whenever UV levels are three and above), use these 5 SunSmart steps – even if it’s cool and cloudy.

1. Slip on a shirt - for free dress days, ensure your child wears clothing that covers as much skin as possible (e.g., elbow length tops with a higher neckline or collar and longer style shorts or skirts). Densely woven fabrics are best.

2. Slop on SPF 30 (or higher) broad-spectrum, water-resistant sunscreen – apply a generous amount of sunscreen at the start of the day and make sure children have sunscreen in their bag ready to be reapplied throughout the day. Please ensure they get plenty of sunscreen application practice at home so they’ll be all set when they are at school.

3. Slap on a hat – one that protects the face, neck and ears such as a broad brimmed, legionnaire or bucket style hat. Peak caps do not offer enough protection and are not recommended by SunSmart. Please help your child remember to bring and wear their approved hat.

4. Seek shade – choose shady spots for play whenever possible.

5. Slide on some sunglasses - if practical and approved by the school. Make sure they are labeled AS 1067 and cover as much of the eye area as possible.

Sun protection times

Don’t just wait for hot and sunny days to use sun protection. Check the sun protection times each day so your family can be protected when they need to be.

Daily local sun protection times and weather details are available from the SunSmart widget on our school website, in the weather section of the newspaper, on the SunSmart website at sunsmart.com.au and as a free SunSmart app. Sun protection times can also be found at the Bureau of Meteorology website and live UV levels are available from ARPANSA.
